Hedging Made Easy!

We have the largest selection of hedging varieties and sizes available, so whatever your budget, we've got it covered!

Come see our hedging display and talk to our knowledgeable sales team who can ensure that you choose the right hedge for your location!

Advantages of planting a hedge?

- Plant a hedge for security
- Privacy all year round
- Provide shelter from the wind
- Hedges are cheaper than building a wall or putting up a fence.
- Attracts wildlife such as butterflies, bees and birds
- Minimum maintenance compared to painting a wall or replacing a fence
- Increase the value of your house
- Hiding unattractive features such as oil tanks and sheds
- Reduced noise levels
- Complimentary backdrop for other plants
- Food & shelter for insects and birds

What type of hedge would you like?

- An evergreen hedge for year round colour
- A slender hedge that won't take up too much room
- A formal hedge that's uniform and tidy
- A native Irish hedgerow
- A low growing hedge

When is the best time to plant a hedge?

Containerised hedging plants can be planted all year round. Autumn and winter time is a great time to plant rootball and bareroot plants which are field grown and dug up when plants are asleep. There is a larger selection to choose from at a much cheaper price!

Come and see our hedging display!

Choose low growing, fast tall growing, deciduous, evergreen and flowering types!

Hedging for a purpose

Choose a low maintenance green Beech (Fagus) hedge.

Laurel is a very popular evergreen hedge (Prunus).

Lavender (Lavendula) makes a nice informal scented hedge.

Create a nice formal boundary with box (Buxus) hedging.

Bamboo is a fast growing hedge.

Choose Photinia for colourful foliage.

Choose flowering Escallonia for a coastal hedge.

Privet (Ligustrum) is good and hardy.
